

Autonomic Joins ProSource Buying Group

Industry-leading whole-house entertainment products including Mirage Audio System now available to ProSource members

Armonk, NY. February 2, 2016 – Autonomic, makers of the finest whole-house music systems, has joined the ProSource buying group, making Autonomic products and services available to a vast array of new integration specialists.

Autonomic has experienced tremendous success with integrators, offering a versatile and scalable home entertainment solution that can operate as a standalone solution or as part of a complete smart home installation. Users can create custom playlists and direct their favorite programming to any room or zone in the home. They can enjoy access to all major streaming services, such as Pandora®, Rhapsody®, SiriusXM, TuneIn Radio, Slacker Radio, Napster, Spotify, TIDAL, Murfie, and Deezer.

"Autonomic is very excited to be part of ProSource," stated Aaron Chisena, Director of Global Sales for Autonomic. We are looking forward to interaction with members and getting valuable feedback on new products we will bring to market in 2016. Our mission is to deliver solutions that address the whole-house entertainment needs of their entire base of clients. ProSource is a vital part of the custom installation community and joining this group reaffirms our dedication to the industry," Chisena concluded.

At the upcoming ProSource Summit in Orlando, FL., Autonomic will have their products on display, with factory personnel on hand to answer questions. The ProSource Summit will take place at the Marriott World Center in Orlando, Florida, February 28 - March 2.

Mirage Audio System

The Mirage Audio System is a turnkey home audio solution allowing users to listen to their personal music collection combined with popular streaming music services in as many as 96 rooms throughout the home. Autonomic's exclusive TuneBridge® functionality allows users to easily discover and explore new music across sources at the push of a button based on what is now playing. AirPlay compatibility enables guests to enjoy content from their iOS devices. With feature-rich packages averaging around $500 per zone before installation, the Mirage Audio System is competitively priced as compared to less capable, mass market entertainment solutions.

Autonomic Controls, Inc. is recognized as a leading manufacturer of complete whole-house music systems. As innovators with a core competency for audio and control, Autonomic offers the ultimate standalone entertainment solution that is feature complete and compatible with popular control and home automation platforms. With an award-winning lineup of media servers, multi-room amplifiers, an intuitive app for Apple and Android devices as well as elegant, designer friendly in-wall keypads, Autonomic products have become the standard for merging local music collections and the most popular online streaming services such as Pandora®, Rhapsody®, SiriusXM, TuneIn Radio, Slacker Radio, Napster, Spotify, TIDAL, Murfie, and Deezer to be enjoyed throughout the home.
