Savant Expands Local Language Features

HYANNIS, MASS. May 19th, 2020 — Savant®, a leader in smart home technology, has enhanced its award-winning Savant Pro App with added language capability including, Portuguese, Russian and Swedish. With the addition of Spanish and Chinese language support earlier this year, integrators now have a greater selection of localization options to provide the finest smart home experience to clients in their client native languages.

Language localization is a feature available in the iOS version of the Savant Pro App, and is available to Savant Integrators worldwide. Language localization enhances both the intuitiveness of the app navigation experience as well as user creation of Savant Scenes, timers and event notifications.

Other new and innovative features from Savant include integrated energy automation with new Energy Modes, circadian lighting automation with Daylight Mode, on-screen control with the Savant Home App for Apple TV, plus the all new ergonomically redesigned Pro Remote X2 with amazing personalization capabilities.

“Savant is committed to delivering the most intuitive, feature-rich smart home user experience to homeowners around the world,” said Andy Hamm, VP of Creative and lead designer of the company’s user experiences. “As we continue to add new features, we also continue to expand our global reach, and we want users to be able to experience and personalize the Savant Pro App in their native language.”
