Savant Unveils the Pro Remote X2

Advances in industrial design, user-personalization capabilities and integrated voice control deliver the most intuitive smart home experience

HYANNIS, MASS. May 6th, 2020 — Savant®, a leader in smart home technology, launched the new Pro Remote X2, delivering an unprecedented smart home experience from a hand-held remote. The Savant X2 delivers a full range of control for Services and Scenes, including Entertainment, Lighting, Climate, Shades and more. And with Siri voice control, color control, with Savant Truelmage lighting, plus the ability to select different video tiling layouts right from the screen, no remote experience delivers more power with such simplicity.

The Savant X2 empowers users to effortlessly personalize the smart remote experience, including adding and organizing icons for control of Favorite Services, Favorite Channels and Savant Scenes. The X2 remote can be tailored for the functionality of the room or to the individual user, making interaction with smart home features a breeze for every member of the family. The Savant Pro Remote X2 is also designed to provide users with quick access to the all-new Savant Home App for Apple TV, a groundbreaking smart home control center displayed on a TV screen.

The all-new X2 features an all-aluminum chassis, sleek, easy-to-press backlit buttons and a 3.1-inch high-resolution glass touch screen. Available in three stunning finishes, the Savant Pro Remote X2 will provide users with the award-winning experience they have come to expect from Savant.

Key features include:

- Aluminum chassis available in Space Gray plus two premium finishes, Rose Gold and Jet Black, available summer 2020
- High-resolution 3.1-inch touch screen and elevated, backlit hard buttons
- Programmable hard buttons for quick scene activation
- Control of integrated lighting, climate, security systems, Savant Music and more
- Personalization by user, including the ability to create and capture scenes right from the remote
- Siri voice control with Apple TV integration
- One touch activation of the Savant Home App on any TV

“The all-new Savant X2 takes functionality and personalization to another level,” explained Savant President JC Murphy. “Adding the choice of premium finishes on top of the convenience of programmable hard buttons and a configurable touch screen make the Savant remote a truly personal experience for each user.

Savant Integrators can reserve the Pro Remote X2 in Rose Gold and Jet Black now by pre-ordering on the Savant Store.
