MasterTech Expo is a collaborative event for automotive aftermarket professionals offering a professional-grade learning experience from leaders in specialties such as interiors, fabrication, audio, and automation. The event offers two days of educational workshops plus an exhibitor area featuring companies that participate in all facets of the aftermarket automotive industry. mastertechexpo.com

DM-RTA Training at MasterTech Expo

The key to achieving fantastic results in audio systems that retain the factory source unit is to understand the characteristics of the audio signal at the outputs. With the AudioControl DM-RTA, this process is simple and opens a world of opportunities to satisfy new and existing customers while winning business with better solutions over competitors. The DM-RTA empowers installers to deliver outstanding system upgrades, even when head units are on backorder! Using the DM-RTA to produce predictable results means better sounding systems and happier customers all leading to an avalanche of referral business.
