SEE AudioControl SOLUTIONS AT THE 2024 ISE: BOOTHS 2K400 AND AT AVProEdge 5D800

Seattle, WA January 25th, 2024 – AudioControl (audiocontrolpro.com) has announced the appointment of Oceanic Distribution, bringing a full range of AudioControl multi-room and home theater solutions to dealers across Australia.

Oceanic Distribution is based in Caringbah, Sydney, Australia. The Oceanic team supplies high-performance home cinema and multi-room A/V products across Australia through a network of A/V specialist stores and custom installers. Oceanic offers exceptional support and a dedicated team with years of experience devoted to exceeding customer expectations throughout the territory, plus an in-house service department capable of technical support and repair across all product lines.

“We are confident that the Oceanic team will present the AudioControl brand, including our latest Dante-enabled and 70-volt amplifiers, to the finest CI and home theater dealers across Australia,” explained Chris Kane, AudioControl’s VP of Sales. “AudioControl’s award-winning products deliver superior performance to custom installation integrators and home theater specialists seeking to provide highest performance solutions to their clients. We look forward to increasing visibility for the AudioControl brand in Australia with the excellent team at Oceanic.”

“Oceanic is proud to represent the exceptional AudioControl range,” said James Hicks, Business Development Director, Oceanic Distribution. “We are excited about not only the best-in-class power and sound performance but the out of the box ability to integrate with control systems and multi-room audio platforms. The extensive library of DSP curves to match Stealth, Origin, and many other speaker brands really helps our integrators get the most out of their projects.”
