Savant Integrators Now Have Access to Advanced, Quiet Curtain Track Systems, Bringing Additional Value to Clients Seeking the Ultimate Smart Living Experience.

HYANNIS, MASS. March 5th, 2026 — Savant®, a leader in smart home and smart power technology, announced the addition of Silent Gliss as a Recommended Partner. Based in Bern, Switzerland, Silent Gliss has been a leading global manufacturer of precision window treatment solutions since it introduced the world's first silent curtain track system in 1952.

“We are excited to offer smooth, ultra-quiet curtain track systems from Silent Gliss, including some premium products never before available in the United States, to Savant integrators,” explained Zac Kelly, Senior Product Director, Shading at Savant. “These drapery systems are an opportunity for integrators to specify a best-in-class window treatment solution that can be integrated seamlessly with Savant’s smart home ecosystem, including Savant Scenes, voice commands, and a revolutionary AI experience that is coming soon.”

Savant integrators will have access to the quiet, fast, and powerful SG 5600 and the hand-operated SG 6970 series of motorized or manual curved and straight drapery tracks (available in surface mount or recessed versions, White, Silver, or Black finishes) as well as the SG 7650 series exposed motorized drapery rods (surface mount only, available in ten finishes). Built-to-size for each order, Silent Gliss wall or ceiling mounted solutions can accommodate large draperies and curved and bent track applications, as well as the neat and stylish Wave curtain heading system that results in a finished appearance similar to that of eyelet curtains, but the fabric hangs directly below the track in a neat and uniform style. Silent Gliss track systems require a 4–6-week lead time.
